

Brigadier General Peter BRUNS

Commander of Air Force Education and Training Brigade

Date of birth 02 September 1966
Academic qualifications Lic. oec. publ. (MBA), University of Zurich
Master of Advanced Studies in Security Policy, and Crisis Management, ETH Zurich
Office address Caserne, 1530 Payerne

Current function

As the Commander of Air Force Education and Training Brigade, Brigadier General Peter Bruns is responsible for the brigade's command and control, and development. He reports to the Commander of the Air Force directly.

The Commander of Air Force Training and Education Brigade is in charge of the recruit, NCO and officers schools, air force intelligence, air force training and drone command, the pilots school, and in addition two air force intelligence and the mobile air force radar battalions. He is also responsible for paratrooper training and jumping capability.

Brigadier General Peter Bruns is President of the SPHAIR Supervisory Commission and a member of the Flight Safety Board.

Career

1988 Second Lieutenant, pilot in the Surveillance Wing
2003 Captain in the air force brigade staff
2003 Major GS, staff officer in the air force brigade
2004 Lieutenant Colonel GS, staff officer in the Surveillance Wing command staff
2008 Head of the Air Defence Operations Centre
2009 Ad interim Chief of Air Force Operations Centre
2010 Colonel CS, Chief of Air Force Operations Centre
2018 Chief of Air Force Staff
2021 Brigadier, Commander of Air Force Education and Training Brigade

Functions

1989 Military pilot in the Surveillance Wing
2006 Head Standardization Cell of the Air Defence Operations Centre
2009 Ad interim Chief of Air Force Operations Centre
2010 Chief of Air Force Operations Centre
2011 Senior Course at the NATO Defence College in Rome
2011 - Project manager, setting up the Air Force's permanent readiness for Air Policing
2019
2018 Chief of Air Force Staff