

Brigadier General Christian SIEBER

Commander of the Military Police

Academic qualifications Criminalistics (lic. sci. crim.)
Office address Kommando Militärpolizei,
 Pont des Îles 2, 1950 Sion

Current function

Brigadier General Sieber commands the Military Police. The Commander of the Military Police reports directly to the Chief of Joint Operations Command. Military Police Command consists of professional and conscript units.

The professional units provide the armed forces with security, traffic, and criminal investigation services in Switzerland and abroad, protect critical infrastructure, and support third parties with protection and safety operations.

The conscript units carry out protection operations, support third parties, and provide law enforcement services (which include the protection of the armed forces against espionage, sabotage, and other unlawful actions), and personal protection.

Career

- 2002 Captain, commander of a territorial special forces infantry company (ad hoc)
- 2004 Mission command of a special forces infantry battalion
- 2005 Commander of a special forces infantry company
- 2007 Major GS, ad interim Assistant Chief of Staff in special forces infantry command
- 2010 Deputy Commander of Guard Detachment of the Federal Council
- 2015 Colonel GS, Commander of Guard Detachment of the Federal Council
- 2018 Commander of the Military Police Close Protection Detachment
- 2022 Land Forces Staff, doctrine, Military Police Development / Light Forces
- 2023 Brigadier General, Deputy Commander of a territorial division and Commander of Patrouille des Glaciers
- 2025 Commander of the Military Police

Functions

- 2003 Deputy Head and instructor at the Police Training Centre in Neuchâtel
- 2005 Head of Security and Traffic Police Division of Lucerne Cantonal Police
 Police shooting instructor for SWAT-Units at the Swiss Police Institute
- 2011 Chief of the Mittelland Emmental Oberaargau region, Bern Cantonal Police Course Director of the Tactics course and Explosives for SWAT-Units course at the Swiss Police Institute