Biography

Ivan Colak-Antic holds a Master of Laws from the University of Geneva and a Master of Science in Crisis and Security Management from the University of Leiden. Being a reserve officer in the Swiss military, he has developed an interest for wargaming as an educational and analytical tool to better understand conflict dynamics. In his free time, Ivan Colak-Antic has helped develop and organize several wargames through different associations. He joined the Swiss Military Academy (MILAC) in July 2025 as research staff in the context of the Wargaming project. His goal is to contribute to the literature on Wargaming and to expand its use within the Swiss Armed Forces.

Research Focus
