

Brigadier General Hans SCHATZMANN

Commander of the Command and Staff Officer School and Deputy Commander of Training and Education

Academic qualifications Lic. iur. / lawyer and notary,
University of Bern

Office address Murmattweg 6, CH-6000 Lucerne 30

Current function

Brigadier General Schatzmann is the commander of the Command and Staff Officer School. He is responsible for the basic training of commanders at small unit level and commanders and commanders' assistants at medium unit level. He reports directly to the commander of the Armed Forces College and acts as his deputy.

The commander of the Command and Staff Officer School is in charge of the Small Unit Leadership Course Command, the Medium Unit Leadership Course Command, and the Interoperability and Cooperation Command.

Career

1991	First lieutenant, commander of a motorised rifle company from 1993 as captain
1995	Captain GS, officer in a field division staff
1996	Major GS
1999	Commander of a rifle battalion, and commander of an infantry battalion
2000	Lieutenant Colonel GS
2006	Assistant chief of staff for training in an infantry brigade
2008	Colonel GS, deputy commander of two infantry brigades
2013	GS officer in a Military Strategy staff
2014	Brigadier General, commander of an infantry brigade
2016	Commander Military Security
2018	Commander of the Military Police
2022	Chief of Staff of the Chief of the Armed Forces and Chief of the Military Strategic Staff
2024	Commander of the Command and Staff Officer School
2025	Commander of the Command and Staff Officer School and Deputy Commander of Training and Education

Functions

1990	Exceptional Examining Magistrate in the canton of Solothurn
1992-2013	Attorney and notary (from 1993 with own office in Solothurn)
1993-2004	Member of the city council (city of Solothurn)
2001-2005	Member of the cantonal council (Solothurn)
2008-2012	Chairman of the Swiss Officers Association

2014 Entry into career officer corps